DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claims 18-23 in the reply filed on 14 January 2009 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that article claims 24-30 should be joined with this group. This has been found persuasive and claims 24-30 have been rejoined with the elected claims. Claims 31-36 remain withdrawn as there is no unity between them and the elected group.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. The anticipation rejection given in section 2 of the detailed portion of the office action mailed 09 April 2009 has been withdrawn in view of applicant's amendments to the claims filed 09 July 2008. A modified rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103 is given below. The 112 2nd rejection given in section 3 of the detailed portion of the office action mailed 09 April 2009 had been withdrawn as being moot in view of applicant's amended claims.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 18-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zaborney (U.S. 4,608,323) in view of Floyd (U.S. 5,320,893) and Barth et al. (U.S. 6,294,233).

Zaborney teaches a metallic printed layer on a substrate of a label that is covered with a top layer and sealed around the edges with adhesive to prevent corrosion of the ink layer (see Figure 2b, element 11, abstract, col. 3, lines 50-60). Floyd teaches sealing of a metallic layer on a substrate between two plastic layers by cutting the metal layer near the edge to form a gap, with plastic from the outer layer filling the gap when the layers are laminated with heat and pressure (abstract, Figures 1-4). Barth et al. et al. teaches using a liquid resin which cures to fill a gap at the end of a metal layer subject to corrosion (abstract). The instant invention claims the formation of a gap in a metal layer around the edge of a label and filling the gap with an edge strip. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have sealed the edge of the metallic ink layer of Zaborney by cutting a gap near the edge of the label, and filling it with liquid resin that is allowed to cure, in order to allow printing through out the surface of the substrate without concern for registration of an empty margin at the edge of the label, because of the teachings of Floyd and Barth et al.

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 18-30 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
